

This sale will end at 1600hrs GMT on 1st December 2022

All offers received before this time will count, however if there is an influx of offers at the last minute it may take a while for the website to reflect these. Offers will be valid if received before the 1600hrs deadline.

How to Submit Your Offer

Please send your highest offer to dc@classichandtools.com

We will need the following information.....

- The item number.
- Your highest offer (please make sure it is greater than the current price listed). This is a single offer, you will not pay less than the amount offered. You are allowed to increase your offer as many times as you like.
- Contact details (name, postal address, email, phone).

Please note the following important information.....

- The offers are in GBP £. Please make your offers are in GBP £. If you make an offer in US Dollars or Euros then we will use the exchange rate at the time of adding your offer.
- Your offer will exclude VAT, there is no tax charged by Classic Hand Tools Ltd. Classic Hand Tools (CHT) are selling the late David Charlesworth's tools on the instruction of his executor. The tools are not owned by CHT. Value Added Tax (VAT) is not charged on these items.
- If your offer is the highest we will contact you soon after the closing date. From there you will be requested to make payment with 5 days. If payment is not received within this time then we may offer it to the next highest offer.
- The postage fees are charged at cost (you can get an estimate by contacting us before the deadline). All items will be shipped by courier with a tracked service. In mainland UK this cost will typically be about £10 per shipment (but some postcodes will attract a premium). Outside the UK shipping cost will vary and this is weight dependent. Please contact us for an estimate for specific items. We will need your full shipping address (no PO please).
- All items in this sale have a reserve price below which the item will not be sold. This is not disclosed but in all cases the reserve set is considered reasonable and fair by CHT.